Tampa International Airport Brings You (to) “Favorite Places and Open Spaces”

Tampa, FL (March 6, 2008) – Bringing exotic locations to the community is what the Airport does best; therefore, it was a perfect fit to bring local photographer David Lawrence’s work from his twenty years of world travel for corporate clients and international picture agencies (based in New York, Chicago, London, Hong Kong and Tampa) to exhibit at Tampa International Airport.

As part of its ongoing Public Art Program, the Airport’s Public Art Committee presents a new six-month exhibition of “favorite places open spaces”. Lawrence has selected dramatic images from his personal collections of photography which are displayed along with narratives to educate the viewer about the beauty and inspiration of each photo.

“I have great admiration for the people whose creativity has given us beautiful buildings, parks, gardens, bridges and other architectural wonders of past and present. My photographs are meant to encourage others to explore ‘our world’, enjoy it and preserve it,” states David Lawrence.

Lawrence’s work ranges from large-scale panoramic to detailed macro photography – sometimes looking at the whole scene and other times studying the geometry and colors of details. Current digital technology enables him to print large-scale photographic images right in his own studio.

“favorite places open spaces” will be on display at the Airport through June 2008. The gallery is situated on the third floor walkway between the main terminal and the Airport Marriott. For further information on the photographer please visit www.LawrenceEditions.com.
