

Cayman Airways introduces cheaper business class

Tuesday 5th January, 2010 Posted: 12:37 CIT (17:37 GMT)

As part of their initiative to create the lowest fares for travel to and from Cayman Islands, Cayman Airways has announced a long-term offer of new business class airfares.

A roundtrip to Miami from Grand Cayman is now US$488 and GCM to Tampa return is $518. The fares do not include taxes or fees, are based on seat availability and other booking restrictions apply.

“These are now the lowest fares on the market for business class travel between Grand Cayman and Miami and Tampa on any airline,” said Cayman Airways’ Senior VP Commercial Affairs and Chief Financial Officer Paul Tibbetts.

“We are excited to invite our customers to experience the exclusivity, comfort, sophistication, and convenience of travelling in business with us.”

Mr. Tibbetts noted that Cayman Airways will also be launching enhanced in-flight service in business class to Tampa and Miami by the end of December, including hot meals.

Passengers flying business class to and from Miami and Tampa on Cayman Airways also enjoy red-carpet VIP check-in, three checked bags free, and a private business class section on the aircraft featuring plush, reclining leather seats and extra leg room.

They also have access to the all-inclusive Sir Turtle Club Lounge at Owen Roberts International Airport when departing from Grand Cayman, as well as access to the club lounges of participating airline partners at Miami and Tampa

International Airports. ###