March 9, 2020

Dear Community Noise Forum Participant,

The Noise Exposure Map workshops scheduled for March 10, 11 and 12 are postponed. New dates will be announced at a later time.

We are committed to robust public attendance and engagement at our Noise Exposure Map update workshops. We recognize there may be some in the community who may be limiting their time at public gatherings for health considerations. As such, we felt it best to postpone these important meetings to a later date when external factors may pose less of a concern for those attending these meetings.

Thank you!
